LISTENING

Listen to the segment and answer the questions.

To try to solve the problem, what did the conservationists do at first?

a) They asked building managers to volunteer for the study.
b) They recorded the locations of where the birds were dying.
c) They tracked the migratory routes of birds.

According to the report, in addition to flying into buildings, what may happen to confused birds?

a) They forget their migratory route.
b) They fly in circles and collapse.
c) They can't find enough insects to eat.

Which source of lighting from buildings is most dangerous to birds?

a) the bright lights inside the buildings
b) the floodlights on the outsides of buildings
c) the reflection of starlight on building windows

According to the report, what is it unrealistic to expect?

a) cooperation from building managers
b) changing the migratory paths of birds
c) turning off all the building lights

According to the report, why are many city buildings lit up at night?

a) as a security measure
b) to aid conservation efforts
c) for decorative purposes

LIVEWORKSHEETS