How to Study English Better

Learning English can sometimes be challenging, but there are many ways to improve. First of all, students should learn new vocabulary regularly. Instead of trying to memorise a long list of words, they could learn a few new words each day and use them in sentences.

Secondly, it's a good idea to improve listening skills by watching English videos or listening to podcasts. This can help students become familiar with different accents and improve their pronunciation.

Students should also practise speaking as often as possible. Why don't they speak English with their friends or practise in front of a mirror? They shouldn't be afraid of making mistakes because mistakes are an important part of learning.

Finally, students should study regularly. Even twenty or thirty minutes of practice every day can make a big difference.
