

Choose the correct sentence.

'I do not have some milk in the fridge.'

- A.I do not have many milk in the fridge.
- B.I do have some milk in the fridge.
- C.I not have any milk in the fridge.
- D.I do not have any milk in the fridge.

'She bought any apples at the market.'

- A.She bought some apples at the market.
- B.She bought much apples at the market.
- C.She didn't buy any apples at the market.
- D.She bought an apples at the market.

'Do you have some sugar for the coffee?'

- A.Do you have any sugar for the coffee?
- B.Do you have a sugar for the coffee?
- C.Are you having some sugar for the coffee?
- D.Do you have many sugar for the coffee?

'Would you like any cup of tea?'

- A.Would you like some tea?
- B.Do you like any tea?
- C.Would you like a few tea?
- D.Would you like any tea?

: 'There aren't some chairs in the classroom.'

- A.There aren't any chairs in the classroom.
- B.There are some chairs in the classroom.
- C.There isn't any chairs in the classroom.
- D.There aren't much chairs in the classroom.

'Can I have any water, please?'

- A.Do I have any water, please?
- B.Can I have many water, please?
- C.Can I have some water, please?
- D.Can I have any waters, please?

'They have any fresh vegetables in the garden.'

- A.They have much fresh vegetables in the garden.
- B.They have some fresh vegetables in the garden.
- C.They have an fresh vegetables in the garden.
- D.They don't have some fresh vegetables in the garden.

'Are there some letters for me today?'

- A.Are there any letters for me today?
- B.Is there any letters for me today?
- C.Are there much letters for me today?
- D.There are any letters for me today?

'We didn't see some friends at the party.'

- A.We didn't see a friends at the party.
- B.We didn't see any friends at the party.
- C.We saw any friends at the party.
- D.We don't saw any friends at the party.

'He needs any money to buy lunch.'

- A. He need any money to buy lunch.
- B. He doesn't need some money to buy lunch.
- C.He needs some money to buy lunch.
- D.He needs a money to buy lunch.