It is said that dog is man's best friend. I don't think so. For me the best friend is someone who I can always rely on, who understands and helps me when I feel upset and downhearted, but who is glad when I am happy, someone with whom I can share all ups and downs of my life. And of course my best friend is someone who can always rely on me, who can share all his/her joy and sorrow with me. We've got secrets and we keep them really secrets even when we sometimes quarrel. Real friendship doesn't depend on your mood and it lasts forever. I'm sure that to have your best friend is one of the most important things in your life.

I met my best friend, Anna four years ago, so we 've been friends for quite a long time and I really think our friendship is true. She is my age, so she is in her late teens, too. We aren't the same, we don't like the same music but both of us like literature, theatre and cinema. We don't have the same favourite actors, his number two is Ewan McGregor, mine is Carry Grant, but we agree that the number one actor of our age is George Clooney. We spend a lot of time together with Anna. We sometimes go out together, but in other cases we just stay in and have a good chat.

I'm very happy that I have a friend like Anna.
