

CINEMA AND THEATRE

Match each expression with the correct description (A–AD)

cinema	movie theater	plot	line	subtitles
go to the movies		gesture	act	sound effects
theatre	flop	costume	wig	special effects
go to the theatre		script scene	audience	soundtrack
be released	seat	set / scenery		setting
performance		box-office hit		rehearsal
role / part	slow motion	spoiler	trailer

Descriptions

- A. The people watching a film, play or performance. _____
- B. The written text that actors use to learn what to say and do. _____
- C. A short video that advertises an upcoming film. _____
- D. The main story of a film, play or book. _____
- E. A place where you sit to watch a film or performance. _____
- F. A film that is very successful financially and attracts many people. _____
- G. The clothes worn by actors to represent a character. _____
- H. The place and time where a story happens. _____
- I. A film or show that is unsuccessful and makes little money. _____
- J. A part of a film or play that takes place in one particular location or time. _____

- K. Words translated into written text at the bottom of a screen. _____
- L. To go and watch a film at a cinema. _____
- M. A practice before a play or performance. _____
- N. A movement of the hands, face or body used to communicate something. _____
- O. The music used in a film. _____
- P. A person's character or part in a film or play. _____
- Q. A false or artificial piece of hair worn on the head. _____
- R. The buildings, furniture and background used to create the place where a film or play happens. _____
- S. The sounds added to a film to make actions seem realistic, such as explosions or footsteps.

- T. Theatrical or cinematic effects that create images or situations that are difficult or impossible to film normally. _____
- U. To perform or present something in front of an audience. _____
- V. One of the sections of a play or performance. _____
- W. A particular sentence or piece of dialogue spoken by an actor. _____
- X. The place where films are shown to the public. _____
- Y. To officially become available for people to watch or buy. _____
- Z. A performance in front of people, especially a play, concert or show. _____
- AA. A piece of information that reveals an important part of a story before someone has seen it.

- AB. A technique in which action is shown more slowly than it happened.

AC. The building or place where plays are performed. _____

AD. To go and watch a play or other performance at a theatre. _____