

The Tale of King Midas

"Listen to the audios and link each one to the correct picture."

Audio	Pictures
"King Midas was a very rich king, but he wanted to be richer."	 A cartoon illustration of King Midas kneeling in front of the Greek god Dionysus. Dionysus is standing, wearing a white robe and a laurel wreath, and gesturing with his right hand. They are outdoors under a vine-covered arbor.
"The Greek god Dionysus offered Midas one wish."	 A cartoon illustration of King Midas sitting on a pile of gold coins. He is surrounded by gold, and there are gold bars and coins scattered around him. He is wearing a white robe and a laurel wreath.
"Midas wished that everything he touched would turn to gold."	 A cartoon illustration of King Midas standing in a doorway, touching the golden door with his right hand. The door is made of gold and has a handle. He is wearing a white robe and a laurel wreath.
"Midas touched the door, and it turned to gold."	 A cartoon illustration of King Midas standing in a grand, golden palace. The room is filled with gold, including columns, floors, and furniture. He is wearing a white robe and a laurel wreath.

"Midas touched his food, and the bread turned to gold."

"Midas hugged his daughter, but she turned into a golden statue."

"Dionysus told Midas to go to the river and wash his hands."

"Midas learned that love and family were more important than gold."

