Making our home comfortable

When my parents bought a terraced house last year, they decided to renovate it before we moved in. The house had been empty for several months, and we noticed a lot of dust ( 0 ) in the floor when we first visited it. It has three ( 9 ) bedroom, a small kitchen and a large living room. My brother and I were excited because my parents allowed ( 10 ) we to help choose the room colours. First, the workers repaired the walls and old windows. The broken windows ( 11 ) was replaced with stronger glass. Later, they worked on upgrading the floors. My father chose wooden flooring because it is ( 12 ) lightest than some type of stone. It is also much easier to clean. The workers followed several safety rules. They should wear helmets when working near the roof. Seeing them reminded me of my father when he was younger. He ( 13 ) can carry heavy building materials by himself. The renovation ( 14 ) begin in June and we moved in at the end of July. Next month, my father will ( 15 ) installs energy-saving lights around the house. We also plan to collect rainwater for the garden with a rain barrel. Everyone agrees that we should ( 16 ) saving water whenever possible. Our house is not the biggest in the neighbourhood, but the changes have made it safer, brighter and more comfortable for everyone.

Datuk Sharifah Aini

Datuk Sharifah Aini, born on 2nd July 1953, had made the Malaysian music scene brighter with her melodious voice for more than five decades. She was awarded the title 'Biduanita Negara' in 2006 for her big contributions to the local music industry.

When she was interviewed, she revealed that her childhood years were not easy ones and she had to grind chillies into fine paste to be sold and stitch baju kurung Johor to help support her family. She started singing at funfairs where she was paid between RM5 to RM10 along with 10 satay sticks. "I initially wanted to be a doctor, driving away suffering and illnesses, however, instead of using medicine, I'm doing it with my songs. It feels great to bring joy to others," she said.

Sharifah's big break came in 1967 when she entered a singing contest organised by Radio Television Singapore and came in second. Her first album, 'Seri Dewi Malam' was released in 1968 and became an instant hit. Following her idol Oprah Winfrey, Sharifah has personally helped over 2,500 orphans and performed many charity shows for various charitable organisations and orphanages.

"People think that I am a difficult person to work with, but I have two maids who have been working with me for the last twenty years and a driver who has been with me for the last twenty-eight years. They will not be with me till today if I am a difficult person to work with," she said sadly.

In conclusion, Datuk Sharifah Aini will always be remembered as a legendary singer whose remarkable voice and contributions left a lasting impact on Malaysia's music industry. She passed away on 5th July 2014 at the age of 61.
