Prismatica art museum

If you are visiting Johor Baharu, you will not want to miss this interesting museum, widely called "The Glass House." This museum is made of glass and is as one of the most remarkable structures in Malaysia. To get there, tourists can take a short taxi ride from the bus station.

It is one of the oldest buildings in Johor and started off as a tiny building that was built in 1931. Later, in 1991, larger repairs and developments were done to the building. After five years, the renovation was finally completed, and in 1996, the building was reopened to the public.

This unique piece of architecture is decorated with as many as 3000,000 pieces of colourful glass on the walls and floors. The door of this building is made up of two paintings that express the ideas of love and friendship. There are pictures of an Indian girl with a cow, a Chinese girl with a dog, and a Malay girl holding a cat.

The museum has a capacity of 1,200 people. Tourists are allowed to enter the museum for RM7 per person, with an extra RM3 for photography, but they are not allowed to bring food or touch any displays. The museum is open daily from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. If you are in Johor Bahru, consider dropping by to visit this unique museum.
