

Girl: Grandpa, look at this on my phone. I took it on our school trip!

Man: Wow! It's lovely. Where did you go?

Girl: To a farm. It was brilliant there. Everything was so interesting.

Man: Good!

Can you see the answer? Now you listen and write.

Man: Which day did you go to the farm?

Girl: On Monday. We took some pictures while we were there and had to make a about it later in the week.

Man: I see. Was the butterfly farm away? Did you have to go by train?

Girl: Not this time. The took us there in the school bus. It didn't take very long to get there.

Man: And were you there all day?

Girl: No. We left school at o'clock ... sorry, it was half past nine.

Man: Quite early then. Tell me more. What did you see there?

Girl: Hundreds of really beautiful I loved visiting the part where they had all the butterflies but they had a few birds and other animals there, too. There was a black! That was the most unusual thing I saw there, I think.

Man: And did you give it something to?

Girl: No! They have to eat special food, Grandpa. But there was a surprise for us when my friends and I got!

Man: What do you mean?

Girl: Our teachers gave us a picnic.

Man: Great! Did you eat your picnic outside?

Girl: Yes, next to a It was really but you can't swim there.

Man: Oh!

Girl: Come and look at my homework. I described everything I saw. My teacher said it was very good!

Man: In a minute! OK? I want to make a cup of tea first.

Girl: Ha ha. All right!
