Hi Mel,

How's it going? I saw an amazing blog called 'Humans of New York' today. I remembered you were looking for someone interesting to write about for your English project, weren't you? Well, I might have found someone for you – what do you think of this?

'For Brandon Stanton, photography was just a hobby. That changed in 2010 when he lost his job. So, he decided to become a professional photographer – his dream job. He started taking photos of city scenes and people. He visited New York in August 2010 and found the city streets perfect for his art, so he decided to stay. He started taking photos of people and finding out about their lives. Under each photo is a short story that explains something about the lives of his subjects. Since 2010, he has taken thousands of photos of New Yorkers. His blog now has over 25 million followers.

Stanton's success has been incredible. He has published 2 books which reached number 1 in the New York Times Best Sellers list. Time magazine added him to their list of people under 30 who have changed the world in a positive way. Brandon continues to upload his photos and stories to the blog and raises money for charity.'

I think Brandon has found a dream job that really brings people together! His blog has definitely shown me that although we're all different and live in different places, we all share the same problems, hopes and dreams. Tell me what you think!

Speak soon,

Caitlin
