

HOMework

QUESTIONS 15-20 Listen carefully and write the missing words.

Street Food Business

Setting up a street food business _____ _____ than opening a restaurant or café but you'll have to _____ _____. I'd try to get things like _____ _____ if you can. You can _____ them with _____ if your business _____ _____. _____ is another option but you'll _____ _____ rather than saving it.

You've probably got a good idea about _____ you're planning to sell. I expect you've done _____ to _____ _____ if anyone else is selling _____. And you'll have thought about _____ to nuts or eggs etc.
But there's one thing people don't always think about and that's how you're going to _____. On a _____? In a _____? Will you provide a _____? Will it all be easily _____?
It's got to be _____ and look _____ or customers _____.

Once you get started, you should be prepared for things _____ _____. Every business _____ and here are a few examples from street food businesses that I know. My friends who run Thai Basil started by _____ their street food business with their day jobs in a restaurant. Their _____ was _____ as they were working _____ _____ in the restaurant all week and then took their _____ _____ to _____ on their days off.

The owners of Basque found it was hard to _____ _____ because the _____ – essential for some of their dishes – was _____. And it was hard to _____ a lot more for those dishes. So they had to _____ _____ and include more _____.

The owners of Lou's Kitchen were _____ to order from their van and some of their dishes were _____. At one of their first events they ended up with people _____ _____ for more than 15 minutes – and many of them _____ _____. So make sure whatever you offer can be _____.

The owners of Chip Chop had found _____ _____ where there weren't any other street food trucks. But what they hadn't realised was that they'd need _____ _____ – which individual businesses don't need at markets or festivals. It was _____ and in the end they _____ _____. So I hope that's given you a flavour of...