Starting photography

by Mrs Howells, Class 3D teacher

Have you ever wanted to take better pictures of your family, of your dinner or of your cat? Well, I can help you. In fact, that's what makes photography such a fantastic hobby. It doesn't matter if you have a nice new camera or just use your phone. We photographers are always trying to improve. We want today's photos to be more interesting than yesterday's.

In my photography classes, I'll show you how to find your own style, not just take the same photos as all your friends. But you'll need to be out of bed early and take pictures in the best light, before it gets too bright. We'll talk more about light in Week 1.

Actually, I've never read a book about photography, and I get bored watching videos on the net. I started to understand more about photography by looking at my own photos. I thought about what was wrong with them and decided how to do better next time. And in Week 2, I'll ask you to do the same with photos you have taken.

Do you want to know what I think? I don't think there's anyone who can't take amazing photos. Not everyone wants to, and that's cool. But if you do, come along to Room 4D on Wednesdays after lunch from 1:30 to 2:00.

Using a Translation App in Asia

Mark

Last month, I visited Japan. I don't speak Japanese, so I got a great translation app on my phone. The best thing is that it was completely free! I also didn't need an internet connection to use it. This was very helpful when I walked around the city. One evening, I was very hungry and went to a small restaurant. I used the app to read the menu and order a big bowl of hot soup. The waiter smiled, and the food was delicious.

Sarah

I travelled to Thailand with my husband in May. We wanted to visit a famous market, but we were lost. We found a taxi, but the driver couldn't understand us. I used a translation app on my mobile phone to ask for directions. Suddenly, the driver started laughing very loudly! The app used the wrong word and called him a monkey. I felt silly, but he was very kind about it. After that, he drove us straight to the market.

David

During my holiday in Vietnam, I went shopping for presents for my family. I found a beautiful wooden box in a small shop. I wanted to ask the shop owner about the price. I opened my translation app and spoke into my phone. However, the app was very slow, and we had to stand there for a minute before it answered! Finally, the app worked, and we agreed on a cheap price. It is the perfect gift for my mother.

Managing emotions

Older brother: Hey, bro!

Younger brother: Hey.

Older brother: Are you OK? I heard you got a bit angry at school today.

Younger brother: Yeah, it was so embarrassing. I lost control. Everyone was looking at me.

Older brother: What happened? Don't worry, I won't tell Mum and Dad.

Younger brother: I just ... urgh, it's so frustrating. I handed in a project to my teacher and I thought it was really good. I worked really hard on it. But today they gave it back, and my grade was really low. My friend, who didn't really work hard, got a really good grade. It's so unfair!

Older brother: Oh, that's not cool. I mean, that must be really frustrating. Did you speak to the teacher about it?

Younger brother: Yeah, I tried, but I felt like they didn't listen and so I got angry and started shouting.

Older brother: OK, look, there's something that helps me to keep calm in situations like this. Don't laugh, but it's all about breathing.

Younger brother: Are you joking? How will that help?

Older brother: You need to find a quiet space and then breathe in and out slowly, like this [inhales deeply through nose]. In through your nose, hold your breath and [exhales] out through your mouth. [Brother copies.] When you're angry, you lose control, and it doesn't help. Your teacher won't listen when you're shouting.

Younger brother: No, it just makes everything worse.

Older brother: But if you breathe like this first, it helps you to keep calm. And when you're calm, your teacher will listen and take you seriously.

Younger brother: Yeah, I'd like that. Breathing, huh? OK, I'll try it. School makes me really angry sometimes. But then, after, I feel bad.

Older brother: Don't feel bad. Everyone gets angry – and it's OK to be angry. It's just about the way you control it.

Younger brother: Yeah. Thanks.

Older brother: No worries, and speak to your teacher – or me – if you are getting stressed about school ... but calmly, right?

Younger brother: Yeah. Thanks. I got it.
