

1. Rewrite the sentence changing the underlined words with a personal pronoun.

Gaby and Tony are students.

Rome is a big city. _____

Paolo and I are at a language school.

Where are your parents from?

Is your brother thirteen?

Barack and Michelle Obama are American

Helga and I are from Germany

Where are the dogs? _____

Mr Jones is an English teacher.

Where are you and Sarah from?

2. Complete with the correct subject pronoun

Gaby and Tony are Mexican. _____ are from Acapulco.

Is Cambridge in Scotland? No, _____ Is in England.

My name's Kate and this is Julie. _____ Are Canadian.

What's your telephone number? _____ Is 6523698

Where are you and Bob from? _____ are American.

Sally and Bill are Australian. _____ are from Melbourne.

Is that boy your brother? No, _____ Is my cousin.

Where are your books? _____ are in my bag.

Sandra and I are from Milan. _____ Are Italian.

Where's Anne? _____ Is at school.

3. Rewrite the sentence using a personal pronoun.

Move your computer, please.

Don't talk to Anne. _____

Try these sandwiches. _____

Don't leave your books on the floor.

Send me an Jane an email.

Don't call that boy. _____

Put your mobile pone on the table.

Don't drink those coffees.

Give this calculator to Bill.

This is a photo of Tom and me.

4. Complete with the correct personal pronoun.

Have you got your dictionary? Yes, I've got _____ in my bag.

Has Mrs Martin got the exam papers? No, Mr Logan has got _____

Mum's in the bedroom and Michael is with _____

I'm your friend. Tell _____ your problem.

The cake's in the fridge. Don't touch _____

These cus are dirty. Wash _____

Peter's crazy. Don't talk to _____

Can you pass my mobile to _____

This cake is Delicious. Try _____

We are in the classroom, but Sam isn't with _____

5. Rewrite the sentences using correct subject or object pronouns. Pay attention to the underlined words.

Gaby and Tony are at school with Mr Tom.

This book is for Tom

Please, call your grandparents.

Paolo and I are with our Friends.

The students are with Julie and me.

Put the purse in your bag.

My cousins are with my parents.

Please call your mother.

Is Jake with you and Sarah?

Where are your friends?
