- Movies today are very different from movies in the past.
- In the old days, films were only in black and white, and sometimes even without sound.
- In addition to these technological limits, producers had very low budgets.
- Because of the lack of money, actors also earn little money from acting.
- Nowadays, everything has changed: actors and producers can earn a lot of money from producing films.

LIVEWORKSHEETS