Abdullah: So why all this research, Sultan?
Sultan: Well, part of my homework is to decide what I would include if I made a time capsule to send to space. Instead of using a record, our time capsule is going to be a tablet.
Nawaf: So, what would you put on your tablet, or, time capsule?
Sultan: A lot of things, but mostly, I would put information about the UAE. In 1977, we were a young nation – a lot has happened since the Golden Record was sent out to space. The first thing on my list would be Burj Khalifa, because it's the tallest building in the world. I would include a bunch of photos and videos, especially ones taken from the top!
Abdullah: Don't forget Sheikh Zayed Grand Mosque! I would include lots of photos of the brilliant architecture.
Nawaf: We would have to have more than buildings, though. What about a video of someone doing falconry? Or the camel races?
Sultan: The truth is that we have so many things here in the Emirates, it would be hard to choose. This is going to be a difficult assignment!
