Types of agriculture

In order to revise some of the concepts studied last class, join the types of agriculture on the left with an example on the right.

- extensive production
- intensive production
- arable farming
- pastoral farming
- mixed farming
- commercial farming
- subsistence farming

- A system that rears livestock and grows crops.
- A farming system that produces a relatively small amount from an area of land.
- A farming system that focuses on breeding and rearing livestock.
- A farming system that produces large amounts from small areas of land.
- A farming system that supplies food for the farmers and their families.
- A farming system that focuses on the production of crops.
- A farming system where the majority of food is sold to others.

LIVEWORKSHEETS