Tsingy, the Stone Forest of Madagascar

I (②) the stone forest of Madagascar to study plants and animals for over 20 years. The spiky stones of this place are true miracles of nature. This amazing shape (③) by rainfall. Rain has cut down the stones and made them sharp and spiky over a long period of time. The environment is harsh (④) to live in, but they have found ways to survive. For example, lemurs, which only live in Madagascar, have frog-like legs (⑤) help them jump from one stone tower to another. For me, the stone forest is like a jack-in-the-box. It always surprises me and keeps me on my toes!
