

1

Read and think.

We use should and shouldn't to give advice.

We give advice to people when we want to suggest something which we think will help them.

You should wear glasses.

You shouldn't play football today.

2

Look and write.

What advice would you give the people in these pictures?
Complete the sentences using should or shouldn't.

1. You _____
eat so much.

2. You _____
smoke.

3. You _____
go to the dentist.

4. You _____
play football in the road.

5. You _____
cross the road at the traffic lights.

6. You _____
go to hospital.

3

Think and write.

Look at these phrases. Use them to give good advice using should or shouldn't.

1. go for a walk _____
2. watch TV all day _____
3. put your feet on the table _____
4. respect older people _____

Now complete the rule.

To give advice, we can use _____ or _____ + the main verb.