My name is Ali. Before this year I (not) buy many things because I did not have a job. But now that I have finished college and have a job, I finally buy a car. It wasn't easy to find a job because I didn't have any experience, but I work until now because I had to study! One day I was feeling very sad, so my father said, 'you like me to help you find work?' He added, 'I know someone who is looking for young graduates to work in his company. I guarantee you will get the job, but I can introduce you to him.' So I went to see his friend, Mr Salem, and the first thing he asked me was what software I use. Fortunately, I love computers and I do lots of things with different programmes, so I said that I show him. Mr Salem was very impressed and said, 'you start working with us today?' and that was it! I know it's not always so easy, but you (not) get discouraged. Use your network of friends and family; you never know who might be able to help you!
