Tom Cruise

Thomas Cruise Mapother IV was born on July 3rd, 1962 in Syracuse, New York.. He is one of the most famous American actors. Every year he earns millions of dollars. His family moved around a lot when Cruise was a child because of his father's career. Cruise's parents divorced when he was 11 and the children went to live with their mother. Like his mother a teacher and amateur actress, and his three sisters, he suffers from dyslexia which made school success difficult for him. He began acting at 14 years old when a teacher encouraged him to take part in the school's production of the musical "Guys and Dolls". Cruise chose the leading part and he found himself at home on the stage.

In 1986 he acted in the fantasy film "Legend" which cost some millions dollars, but was not good. In the same year he took part in "Top Gun" which made him a famous star. The film became the biggest success of the year. The next years, his success went on with the release of some of his greatest films such as "The Colour of Money", "Rain Man", and "Born on the fourth of July" for which he won a Golden Globe. In 1987 he fell in love with Mimi Rogers, who he married in a short time. They divorced in 1990 and the same year he met Nicole Kidman on the filming set of the movie "Days of Thunder". They got married on Christmas Eve that year. In 2000 Cruise starred in "Mission Impossible 2". Two years later he worked with Steven Spielberg in "Minority Report" and in 2003 he flew to Australia to shoot "The Last Samurai". On February 2001, Cruise and Kidman announced their divorce after 11 years of marriage. The couple has two adopted children, Isabella and Connor. After that Cruise married Katie Holmes. They got married in Italy and had a child together. They divorced in 2012.
