

Read this article about an interesting way you can make money.

- Some parts of sentences have been left out from the text.
- Your task is to reconstruct the text by filling in the gaps (1-9).
- Remember that there are two extra phrases that you do not need.

Created by Margaret Hagan from the Noun Project

NEW YORK MAN MAKES CLOSE TO $1,000 A WEEK WAITING IN LINE

When Robert Samuel found himself unemployed in 2012, (0) he didn't think twice before responding to an ad that offered cash to wait in line for someone to get a new iPhone. A year later, the New York-born man (1) _____ the city's only professional line waiting team.

His team of line-sitters have (2) _____ including iPhones, sports shoes, special sales, concert tickets — and even Santa Claus photos. "I didn't even know Santa Claus lines could be that long," Samuel said.

After two years, Samuel now has more than a dozen employees, (3) _____, who stand in line in cities across the country. "I was hired by a family in Colorado that (4) _____ to get into a TV quiz show," he said. "Because I was in New York, (5) _____ to stand in line and the family bought him some fancy T-shirts and hats to thank him. He was in line for 43 hours."

Robert and his colleagues have been very successful — (6) _____. They are available non-stop and (7) _____, while each extra half hour is $10.

As he is booked for every single day in September, many people think that Robert should take his business to the next level by (8) _____ — but he says he's not yet ready for that. "I've been asked about getting an app but I love the personal touch that my company has. When people call my number just to tell me (9) _____ — that makes me feel good."

(nydailynews.com)