Listen to the story:

"Time to colour Easter eggs," says Mrs Bunny to Edgar. Edgar loves to colour eggs.

Edgar loves to dip the eggs into bowls of bright colours. He loves to paint them with his fine brushes.

"Your eggs are beautiful, Edgar," says Mrs Bunny.

When they finish, Edgar's mother says: "Now it's time to hide our eggs for the children".

Edgar says: "I can't and I won't. It will make me very sad to give away my pretty eggs."

"I know it's hard to share," says Mrs Bunny. "But sometimes sharing is more fun than keeping."

"Pick out your favourite egg and we'll hide the rest for the children. Let's see how you feel tomorrow, after the Easter Egg Hunt."

Edgar takes his favourite egg out of his basket and goes outside with his mother to hide the rest of the eggs for the children. Edgar and his mother hide eggs here and there all over.

The next day the children come. And they hunt and hunt for the beautiful Easter eggs. After the Easter Egg Hunt, the children say nice things to Edgar. Ellen says: "Edgar, these are the most beautiful eggs I've ever seen!". Marcus says: "Thank you, Edgar, for sharing your eggs. You will always be my best friend!" Edgar is very happy!
