

I. Match the dialogue. Write the numbers in the boxes.

- Hi, my name is Arlet Rivera
- Nice to meet you.
- Can you spell your name, Jair?
- How old are you, Arlet?
- I'm 16 years old, too. Do you vote?
- No, I don't vote. Bye! See you later!

- I am 16 years old. And you?
- Yes, I vote. In Argentina we vote at the age of 16 years old, And you?
- Bye- Bye. See you later!
- Hello, my name is Jair Johnson.
- Nice to meet you, too.
- Yes. J-A-I-R

II. Match the pairs.

- |                                   |                                       |
|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 1. I am Joanna. Nice to meet you. | a. No, I don't vote.                  |
| 2. Bye. See you later!            | b. Yes. P-E-T-E-R                     |
| 3. Do you vote?                   | c. I am Paula, nice to meet you, too. |
| 4. Can you spell your name?       | d. Bye, bye! See you later!           |

III. Drag the words to ask questions.

- |                          |                                |                        |                               |
|--------------------------|--------------------------------|------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Do you vote       | Can you spell your name | How old are you | What is your last name |
| 1. _____?                |                                | 3. _____?              |                               |
| I am 13 years old.       |                                | No, I don't vote.      |                               |
| 2. _____?                |                                | 4. _____?              |                               |
| My last name is Rivera . |                                | Yes, A-R-L-E-T.        |                               |

IV. Order the sentences.

- Can /your name, Jair/ you spell?
- are you /How old?
- you/vote/Do/?