

Holiday postcard- going to/ weather

Hi Tracey,

We just arrived in Florida. I am going to unpack our bags after I write this postcard. It is raining now, but I think it's going to clear up soon.

We're going to go to the beach when the sun comes out. It's going to be very hot. I'm going to bring an umbrella, a hat, and some sunscreen. We're going to order a pizza tonight. Your dad doesn't feel like going out for dinner tonight because we're going to be eating out a lot this week. I'm going to miss you! See you next week.

Love Mom

PS: When are you going to go on holiday?

Read the postcard and answer the following questions:

What is Mom doing at the moment?

What is Mom going to do after writing the postcard?

What is the weather like?

What is the weather going to be like soon?

Where is the mother now?

Where is she going as soon as it becomes sunny?

What is she going to bring at the beach?

Tonight she is going to order _____

Are they going out for dinner tonight?

Who is the mother writing a postcard to?
