

Name: _____

Topic: Digestive System

Read the function and write the part of the digestive system that matches the function.

1. The group of organs that breaks down food to absorb its nutrients is called _
_____.
2. The process of breaking down food into its nutrients is called _____.
3. The digestive system is made of a long tube called the _____.
4. The food is bitten off when necessary, and chewing breaks it up into smaller pieces. This occurs in the _____.
5. The involuntary muscles contract and relax, forcing the food into the stomach. This occurs in the _____.
6. The _____ is a muscular bag which contracts and relaxes, mixing the food with the digestive juices.
7. Most of the digestion takes place in the _____.
8. The food that was not digested makes its way to the _____.