

The Upside Down House - Niagara Falls, Canada

When Poland native Marke Cyran presented his idea to the Niagara Falls City Planner Office, they laughed at his building plans for an upside-down house. But in 2012 Marke realized his dream and opened his "Upside Down House" to the public seven days a week.

The Niagara Falls Upside Down House is a tourist attraction that gets a lot of second looks. "The idea actually came from Poland" explains Cyran. "When I was on vacation I saw an upside down house in Poland and then I thought why not build one in Niagara Falls?"

This 1,200 square foot house has six rooms including two bedrooms. There is a bathroom with a sink, toilet and bathtub on the ceiling. There is a kitchen with the table, stove and cabinets all on the ceiling. It is a fully equipped house with electricity and water.

There is one problem with the house. "The people get dizzy." says Marke. "It's actually the mind. The mind is trying to adjust to the situation." Are you ready for the challenge of walking through this house?

Write T or F next to the sentences.

1. Marke was born in Canada.
2. The house is used as a residence.
3. The idea for the house was actually from Europe.
4. The house has six bedrooms.
5. The house has lights but no water.
6. Some people feel uncomfortable in the house.

Watch the video!

