CLASSWORK N° 3
Kusi, 22, Bolivia.	I think the future will be brighter for the world. People will learn how to take care of the natural resources and new eco-friendly technologies will be developed. I really hope that the environmental education in my country will be improved. It will be nice to see more people interested in taking care of the environment.
Min, 17, Myanmar.	I haven't seen a real change in people, so I think the world won't change a lot. I think that there will be more contamination, so people will have to wear special devices to help them breath. There won't be many trees, so the air we will breath won't be so pure. I don't want this to be a reality, but it seems like the most probable scenery.
Harold, 67, Australia.	I'm an old man, but that doesn't mean I don't do anything to change the world. In a few months, I'll attend to a congress about strategies to create conscience about the melting of the poles. Polar bears will be very happy to know we are planning to save their home. My friend, Koha, is also an activist, and she will start to give conferences at schools and universities to create debate about the preservation of koalas.
Natalya, 25, Ukraine.	My grandma was a survivor of the Chernobyl accident, and she taught me to work hard to build a better world. I'll be part of a new world, that's why I'm studying nuclear engineering. Nuclear energy will change the world, it is eco-friendly, if you are careful, and it is more efficient too. Hello, I am Jane from Peak High School. Today I want to talk about my future predictions. I hope I will go to a good university. I love English very much; I think I will be an English teacher after I graduate from university. I will do my best to teach English perfectly to my students. I don't like my city; for this reason, I won't live in Canterbury, I am fond of Paris, so I will live in France. I guess I will get married in my forties and have 3 children. I will be a wonderful mom, I hope. I will spend great time with my children and try to ensure all the opportunities for them. Since I love working too much, I won't get retired before my sixty. I hope I will settle in a village with my husband after I get retired and live there till I die.
