

Sport
psychology
Health
psychology
Personality
psychology
Forensic
psychology
Cognitive
psychology
Developmental
psychology
Social
psychology
Clinical
psychology

examines how people interact with others and how this affects them how differences in people's personality may explain their behaviors and thinking.

the study of the processes of the brain; these include thinking, learning, memory and language.

examines how people learn, develop and change throughout their lifespan examines how psychology can affect performance in sports.

used to diagnose and treat mental illnesses can be used to investigate criminal cases by applying knowledge of human behavior.

examines how people's biological, behavioral and social factors contribute to their health