

Ex1: Can you help the editor organize the reviews with the landmarks the users have visited?

Amazing (and sinister) history and wonderful cruise

We booked not really knowing what to expect. It was a fabulous and quick cruise to the island with lots to see. We were very impressed by the building: it was sinister! But we had no idea there were gardens everywhere and it has been basically turned into a bird sanctuary with botanical gardens. The rich history combined with all of this made it a pretty amazing trip! So with it!!

A must-see

An absolute must-see. Something I've always wanted to do. It was disappointing that there was so much construction going on, so we couldn't get close to the memorial. The sculpture itself is great to see, especially at night. I had no idea that Lincoln wasn't even finished yet. He has no left ear! Important: even though South Dakota has no mask mandate, you had to wear your mask here!

Iconic Sculptures

This is a spectacular site to visit especially if you are really intrigued by the Moai. These are the only moai that are facing the ocean and when you arrive there, there is enough information so you don't need a guide. There is a feeling of mystery surrounding these famous sculptures. It's a place you definitely should visit!

Rapa Nui National Park

Mount Rushmore
National Memorial

Alcatraz Island

Ex2: The editor is looking at a picture he received and he is discussing with his partner which place is being portrayed. Try completing the sentences with the correct modal of deduction:

A. What do you think about this picture? By the looks of it I think this place _____ in America.

B. Look, there are some camels there. It _____ somewhere in Asia or Africa.

A. Probably. The buildings at the back have some bulbed domes. It _____ China or Japan.

What about Russia?

B. It _____ Russia, they do not wear those clothes in Moscow or Saint Petersburg.

It is too cold there to be in such light clothes.

A. You are right.

B. The building at the back, I think I recognize it. It _____ the Taj Mahal or it looks pretty similar. What do you think?

A. Certainly. It is white, it looks as if it was made of marble, I can't see the great fountain in front of it but you _____ right.

B. See the three towers around the temple? I think they are called minarets. It is definitely an Islam mosque. It _____ India then.