

MAKING QUESTIONS IN THE PAST SIMPLE

Remember that in the exercises below all sentences start with a capital letter and all sentences end with a question mark!

USING "DID"

A. Change the following sentences to questions. Look carefully at the example given.

1. She played football all day yesterday → Did she play football all day yesterday?
2. My brother told me a joke → _____
3. They went to the party → _____
4. We worked at the office all night → _____
5. The music suddenly stopped → _____
6. The boy gave him a present → _____
7. I closed the door → _____
8. We had lunch yesterday → _____
9. I did my homework last night → _____
10. John flew to London → _____

USING WH- WORDS (who/what/where/when/which/how)

B. Make questions about the underlined parts and use the "wh-words", like in the example given:

1. Anne wrote a letter yesterday → What did Anne write yesterday?
2. Peter went to London last month → _____
3. I did my homework last night → _____
4. He went to the cinema yesterday → _____
5. My sister phoned me last Thursday → _____
6. Sally worked in the office yesterday → _____
7. They arrived at one o'clock → _____
8. I bought a new car last week → _____
9. I bought a new car last week → _____
10. Susan fixed her car → _____

Use the words to make questions. The answers to the questions are already given.

1. Question: When – the murders – take place?

The murders took place in 1888.

2. Question: Where – the victims – live?

The victims lived in Whitechapel where they worked as a prostitute.

3. Question: How – Jack the Ripper – murder – his victims?

He cut their throat and removed body parts.

4. Question: Why – Jack the Ripper – kill – those women?

Nobody knows. The crimes were never solved.

5. Question: Who – Jack the Ripper?

I don't know who he was and maybe we will never know...