Talk 2

Boy: Hi!

Shop assistant: Hi. What can I do for you?

Boy: I would like a bunch of _____ and a kilo of red _____.

Shop assistant: Uh, I'm afraid we only have green apples left. Is that alright?

Boy: Yes. That will be fine.

Shop assistant: Anything else?

Boy: Yes, have you got any _____?

Shop assistant: Yes, we have both green and black olives. Which do you prefer?

Boy: I would like a jar of green olives.

Shop assistant: Here you are.

Boy: How much does it cost?

Shop assistant: It's $ 10.75.

Boy: Here you are.

Shop assistant: And here is your _____ and receipt.

Talk 3

Daughter: What are we going to buy from the grocery store, mom?

Mom: Let's first go in the produce section to buy _____ and _____.

Mom: This is the produce section. We need _____ and _____.

Daughter: I would like to buy some _____. They look so fresh.

Mom: Ok, you should put them in a plastic bag.

Mom: We've run out of cereals, so we need to buy two boxes.

Daughter: Are these ok?

Mom: Those are perfect. You can put them into the cart.

Daughter: Mom, can I buy some _____ to have a snack a little later?

Mom: I'm afraid not. Chips aren't healthy. I'm going to bake some _____ later on, so you'll have a great snack.

Daughter: That sounds wonderful!

Mom: Let's go and pick up the ingredients. We need _____, _____, _____, _____ and raisins.

Mom: This is the dairy section. Let's take the butter and the eggs.

Daughter: I would like to buy some _____, too. Is that ok?

Mom: Yes, sure. Put it into the cart.

Daughter: I'll take two cups.

Daughter: Why have we come to the fresh _____ section? Do we need to buy anything from here?

Mom: Yes, we need _____, because I want to cook a chicken broth.

Daughter: Look, this frozen _____ must be delicious!

Mom: Please put it back, you'll have a delicious meal at home.
