The following text is for questions 1 to 4.

It was the beginning of July, my family and I were going on our vacation on the beach. We chose this because it was the cheapest place for our vacation.

We left home so early in the morning because the beach was far enough. We arrived there at 10.00 a.m.

At the beach the weather was sunny and clear. We were about to take the Banana Boat when suddenly the weather changed into cloudy and the waves became so high. It was terrible. Everything shook terribly. We started to scream in fear because of the thunder and lightning. Then it rained very heavily. We ran to the house near the beach. I held my parent's hands. We were praying together, while Mom was trying to calm me down.

Not long after the rain stopped and the extreme weather changed slowly. But we didn't want to continue our vacation longer. We decided to go home as soon as possible.

On the way home we thanked God for saving us from bad weather on the beach. It was really a terrible experience.
