The Victorian Era

The Victorian era was one of great contrasts between the life of the rich and that of the poor.

The rich lived a life of ease and They had to run their large houses. They wore elaborate clothing and ate of many courses.

The life of the Victorian poor was extremely . They often didn't have enough money for a decent meal or housing. They lived in constant fear of the

Victorian Houses

Richer Victorians lived in much better houses. They were larger, sometimes even having rooms in the for servants to sleep in.

The Industrial Revolution meant large numbers of people moved to towns and cities to work in . Rows and rows of back-to-back houses were built for the poor. These houses were very , with two rooms downstairs and two rooms upstairs. They didn't usually have , but small yards.
