

Second Conditional

Gary: Hey Jill, _____ rich, like so rich you never had to worry about money ever, what _____?

Jill: Hmm. If I were that rich, _____ a nice house by the sea. I love the coast. And I _____ the world. I _____ every country in the world. How about you?

Gary: To be honest, I don't really know, but I _____ lot of money to my parents. They _____ have worked so hard all of their lives. Apart from that, yeah, well, traveling sounds good, yeah. I _____ to do that. The rest, _____ sure.

Jill: Yeah, well, it's time to get back down to earth now and stop dreaming. Tomorrow is another day at work and that ain't going to make either of us rich.

Gary: Yeah, that's true. Better get on with it then.

What would you do with a million dollars?

Cheryl (Guam): If I had a million dollars what would I do? Well first, I _____ a portion of that money and put it into savings. That way I would not be able to spend that money later. Secondly, I would probably take some money and go traveling around the world. I would do everything that I've always wanted to do on my to-do list in life. And lastly I _____ money to charities and churches, and the rest would be given to my family and friends and everybody I love would be given an amazing present.

Jake (United States): I _____ an expensive house on a tropical island somewhere and a yacht. And I would buy a very, very nice car and a private jet. I don't know if a million dollars would buy all this stuff now. But I would just _____ days enjoying life.

Nydia (United States): If I _____ million dollars, I personally would ... I would probably quit work and apply to a better university. You need money to get into college in the states, so that would really help _____. I think I'd definitely buy a new house, maybe not a huge mansion but I wouldn't be renting anymore that's for sure.

Jonathan (Canada): if I won a million dollars what _____ do? Now I don't have the need to have any special large possessions such as a house or expensive car. I think that I would put the million dollars somewhere safe where there is no risk of anything, like the stock market, and I would live off of the interest for the rest of my life. Even in a very safe circumstance, the return would probably be 3% or 4% being $30,000 or $40,000 dollars a year, and I think that I could comfortably _____ of that and allow me to travel and see the places in the world that I haven't been to yet.

Mauro (Brazil): Wow. This question's really great. What would I do with a million dollars? Wow. I would probably _____ this money, but invest in my own businesses. These days I just think about making business, starting a business, so I just want to _____ myself. So I would probably invest my money creating businesses and working for myself. It would be something really like that.

Nick (Australia): A million dollars! _____ A million dollars, _____ around the world. I haven't been to Africa and I'd really like to go. Secondly, I'd buy a really big house with a really big television. Then after, if I had any money left, I would invest. Maybe give some to my parents.
