DJ and the Desert Snake

DJ loved snakes. One hot day, he saw a big black snake. He followed it into the desert. Soon, DJ saw that he was lost. After walking for hours in the heat, he felt so thirsty and weak that he could not even stand up. He fell down and went to sleep. A little while later, Tatum rode by on her donkey. She saw DJ lying in the sand. Hopping off her donkey, she ran to him with a bottle of water. DJ drank the water and began to feel better. Tatum put DJ on her donkey and led him back to the town where she and DJ lived.
