

Traveling in a fried-out _____
 On a hippie trail, head full of zombie
 I met a strange lady, she made me _____
 She took me in and gave me breakfast
 And she said:
 Do you _____ from a land down under?
 Where women glow and men plunder
 Can't you hear, can't you hear the thunder?
 You better run, you better take cover
 Buying _____ from a man in Brussels
 He was six foot four and full of muscle
 I said, "Do you speak-a my _____?"
 He just smiled and gave me a Vegemite

And he said:
 I come from a land down under
 Where _____ does flow and men chunder
 Can't you hear, can't you hear the thunder?
 You better run, you better take cover, ye-aah
 Lyin' in a den in _____
 With a slack jaw and not much to say
 I said to the man, "Are you trying to tempt me?"
 Because I come from the land of plenty
 And he said:
 Oh! Do you come from a land down under?
 (oh yeah, yeah)
 Where _____ glow and men plunder
 Can't you hear, can't you hear the thunder?
 Aah
 You better run, you better take cover
 Living in the land down under
 Where women glow and men _____
 Can't you hear, can't you hear the thunder?
 (Can't you hear thunder?)
 You better run, you better take cover
 _____ in the land down under
 Where women glow and men plunder
 Can't you hear, can't you hear the thunder?
 Oh, yeah
 You better run, you better take cover, e-ah
 Living in the land down under, oh-ooh
 Where women glow and men plunder
 Can't you hear, can't you hear the _____?
 (Ya-ya, ya-ya, yaa, thunder)
 You better run, you better take cover
 Living in the land down under
 Living in the land down under

DOWN UNDER

Song recorded by Australian band

Men at Work in 1980

The lyrics to "Down Under" describe an Australian man travelling the globe, who meets people who are interested in his home country. The story is based in part of singer Colin Hay's own experiences.

Hay has also said that the lyrics were partly inspired by a comically stereotypical Australian who tours abroad.
