

Taking Care of Your Home

Caring for your home environment has many benefits. It is easier to live in a tidy space than in a messy space. You can find things easier when they are in their proper place. Taking care of your things makes them last longer and stay in better condition.

Select from the drop down menu: messy room or tidy room

Put an X on the picture of the room where you can find your books easily.

A clean home also helps reduce the chances of you getting sick. Messy and dirty homes can attract mice and insects. These animals can make people sick if they share the same space as you. Dirty toilets and kitchen counters can spread germs that can make you sick.

Drag and drop the picture under the correct word

mice	insects	germs

A messy home also affects the way you feel. Living in a dirty or messy home can make you feel unhappy or sad. When you feel this way, you are less likely to want to clean up. It is best to put some time aside each day to ensure that you are on top of the cleaning and you'll feel happier and more relaxed for it.
