The Museum of the Future in Dubai now has an 1. _____ (exhibition, prohibition, addiction) about communication changes in the coming 2. _____ (debates, decades, parades). The three main themes are how robots, AI (Artificial Intelligence) and technology will 3. _____ (improve, impact, interfere) human physical capabilities, business relations and communication. Du, the UAE telecommunications company, has already developed a new technology called Eye Share which allows people to fully share, in real time, their 4. _____ (experiences, examples, exams) with friends and family. So, 5. _____ (moreover, furthermore, for instance), if your friends are having a great day out, instead of looking at their tweets and uploaded photos on a 6. _____ (society, social, subway) media site, you will be able to 7. _____ (seeing, sees, see), feel and hear what they are doing simultaneously. 8. _____ (Exhibits, prohibited, exercises) at the museum also include Mood view, a form of technology which promises to help us understand how the people we are with are feeling. Then, according to the designers, it will tell us what to say and how to act. Since so many arguments are caused by people not understanding each other, maybe this will help people to stay calm. Share your dreams! Sound like something from a science 9. _____ (adventure, action, fiction) movie? Well, the makers of Dream Stream claim that one day we will be able to design and share our dreams with others via a global dreaming network. As we don't all have exciting dreams, why not link up 10. _____ (at, from, with) a friend's dreams! As with Twitter, you will be able to attract followers and share dreams with celebrities, your family or even random strangers.
