Read and answer the questions

Get up later, be a better student!

Doctors recently tested two groups of teenagers.

Group A started college at 8 a.m. and Group B started 30 minutes later.

The doctors' conclusions were:

Group A: They got worse exam results, they thought school was more boring and they were unhealthier.

Group B: They were happier than the other group, they got better results and they were healthier.

So 30 minutes more sleep makes better students!
