

ANATOMY LABELS

	Vagina	Ovary
Uterus	Cervix	Fallopian Tube

PHYSIOLOGY LABELS

nourish and house a fertilized egg until the fetus, or offspring, is ready to be delivered	narrow tubes that assist the transfer and transport of the female reproductive cell	maintain a sterile environment during conception and holds the fetus in until birth
	a tube connecting the uterus to the outside of the body	main reproductive organs that produce ova (egg) and the female sex hormones oestrogen progesterone