JULIE'S LIFE

I'm Julie Blair. I'm twenty-two and I'm German. I am married. My husband is George. He is American, but we live in Sydney now. We work in the local hospital. My husband is a doctor and I am a nurse. We live with our son, Johann. He studies in a public school, so his education is cheap. I am really lucky. I love my life and my family. My telephone number is 0186554789. My address is 45 Green Street.

DROP DOWN SELECT BOX/MULTIPLE CHOICE

Dung beetles work from the inside of the pat so they are sheltered from predators such _____ birds and foxes. Most species burrow into the soil and bury dung in tunnels directly underneath the pats, wh ich are hollowed out from within. Some large species originating from France excavate tunnels to a depth of approximately 30 cm _____ the dung pat. These beetles make sausage-shaped brood chambers along the tunnels. The shallowest tunnels belong to a much smaller

Spanish species that buries dung in chambers that hang like fruit from the branches of a pear tree.

South African beetles dig narrow tunnels of approximately 20 cm below the surface of the pat.

Some surface-dwelling beetles, including a South African species, cut perfectly-shaped balls from the pat, which are rolled away and attached _____ the bases of plants.

Dear Clare Affleck,

Look at this job advertisement. You have 1 year more of experience requested in the ad and your work taking care of children at the Mayo Clinic is amazing. You only work in the afternoons, so you can choose the other shift. Is your number still 555-543-876? I want to give you more information.
