

5th jrs.

Composition: "Stories about journeys."

There is an announcement in an international magazine for schools, asking for contributions of stories about journeys.

Read the announcement: "Stories about journeys."

We are looking for stories about journeys for our magazine. Write a story that begins with this sentence:

"It had come at last - the morning I had waited for, for so long."

Your story must include: a train and a passenger.

Write a story in 140-160 words following the steps:

- Start with the sentence given .
- Explain why you had waited for this journey for so long.
- Say what happened next.
- Include the two items given in the story: a train and a passenger.
- Give your story an interesting ending.

Title:

It had come at last - the morning I had waited for, for so long.