Write An informal email based on prompts

Read the email and answer the questions below.

Choose the answer from the box and then drag the answer to the suitable question. There are some extra answers which you do not need to use.

Mark	Simon	He is writing to give some great news.	Yours, Simon.
He is writing to give some great news and to invite Mark to his party.		Write back with all your news.
Hello Mark,	How are things?		Well, that's all for now.

1. Who is writing the email?

_____

2. Why is this person is writing?

_____

3. What set phrases are used to begin the email?

_____

4. What set phrases are used to end the email? (Choose more than one answer)

_____

_____

LIVEWORKSHEETS