Section 1- Passage

John was always picking cherries from the tree and feeding the hens. Mother liked that he spent time with the hens but was always worried that he could get hurt. One day while John was feeding the hens, he saw all the baby chicks sitting in a corner. He wanted to feed the baby chicks so he went inside and took a small bowl and put some cherries for the baby chicks. John walked towards the chicks and put the bowl on the ground. As he was about to get up, he saw all the hens running towards him. They were looking furious. He got scared and started to run.

The hens ran after him through the yard pecking at him very angrily. Mother came outside when she heard John screaming and chased the hens away. John never played with the hens after that day.

Section 2 - Poetry

The Wind

by Robert Louis Stevenson

I saw you toss the kites on high
And blow the birds about the sky;
And all around I heard you pass,
Like ladies' skirts across the grass—
O wind, a-blowing all day long,
O wind, that sings so loud a song!

I saw the different things you did,
But always you yourself you hid.
I felt you push, I heard you call,
I could not see yourself at all—
O wind, a-blowing all day long,
O wind, that sings so loud a song!

O you that are so strong and cold,
O blower, are you young or old?
Are you a beast of field and tree,
Or just a stronger child than me?
O wind, a-blowing all day long,
O wind, that sings so loud a song!
