

Number the sentence strips in the correct order.

On Saturday, Natalie, Mum and I went to the library and shops.
Natalie and I walked towards Mr. Gelati's ice-cream shop where he was serving ice cream.
I'd imagined meeting a famous author, inventing a great new ice cream flavour and winning free pizza for a year until I am left with no imagination.
My teacher asked me to write about the pet we'd like to have using our own imaginations.
I went home thinking I should use my imagination to write about a horse, elephant, crocodile or a dinosaur.
Mr. Gelati rushed out with two huge ice-creams in his hands screaming Joel's Jelly Baby Freeze is selling like crazy.
I met a famous author named Anastasia Olivetti in the library where she dedicated the success of her book to me.
Mum bought us for pizza and we found out that we have won free pizza for a year.	