NOBODY, NOTHING AND SOMEBODY (Indefinite Pronouns)

- We use NOTHING, SOMETHING and EVERYTHING with iT when we make a question tag:

  Nothing + clause, + [question tag with it] ?

  Something/Everything + clause, + [question tag with negative auxiliary and with it] ?

- We use NOBODY, SOMEBODY and EVERYBODY with THEY when we make a question tag:

  Nobody + clause, + [question tag with they] ?

  Somebody/Everybody + clause, + [question tag with negative auxiliary and with they] ?

EXAMPLE

Nothing is related to security, is it?

Something has been interpreted wrongly, hasn't it?

Everything is philosophic, isn't it?

Nobody came from the army, did they?

Somebody has come to that conclusion, haven't they?

Everybody attacked each other, didn't they?

Nothing is related to speed, is it?

Write the proper question tag

Something has been cooked wrongly,

Everything is connected,

Nobody did the homework,

Somebody has turned off the lights,

Everybody hugged each other,

Nothing was true,

Something had darkened his eyes,