Anousheh Ansari - space ambassador

Anousheh Ansari was born in Iran. As a teenager, she moved to the United States. She is the co-founder, with a friend, of an internet company. She is also a popular speaker around the world.

More importantly, in 2006 Ansari realized her childhood dream: She was the first female private space explorer. It was so exciting to be a space traveler!

Now she wants to help bring peace to the world as the world's first "space-ambassador" – a kind of teacher about outer space.

Her motto: "Be the change you want to see in the world." (Gandhi)
