

The science of surfaces

1. You are going to hear a documentary about how scientists copy nature to create new products. Listen to the beginning of the documentary and answer:
  - Why do you think scientists are interested in shark skin?
  - What do you think they can learn from them?

