

Writing informal email

Describe a recent life change: Getting Married

You have just got married. Email your friend telling this good news and tell them about the differences of being single and married.

Start your writing here.