Section 3

There are ten (10) incorrectly spelt words in the passage below. Rewrite each of those words in the spaces after the passage.

Pollution is the introduction of harmful substances into the environment. Man has been putting many harmful substances into the environment. Seas, oceans and rivers become polluted when oil from ships spill into the water. Rivers become polluted when rubbish is dumped into them or when waste substances from factories are sent into them. My friends and I like to bathe in the river. Polluted waters can be harmful to anything that lives in it. The beach is a wonderful place to visit. The air is also polluted with the smoke from factories and cars. Pollution can destroy life on earth if it is not stopped.
